of Walking 43 Miles After
Holdup Attempt Tuesday.UNDER CHARGES
IN KANSAS CITYPrisoner Accused of Selling
Photograph Not Entirely
Paid for and Leaving City
in Hired Auto.

Theodore Freelinghusen Taylor, 34 years old, a Kansas City pharmacist, who with his bride, Anna, 21, were arrested yesterday in Wentzville, Mo., told reporters at police headquarters today that it was he who last Tuesday at 10 p. m. best with a Jack handle and attempted to rob Marshall Stone, 21, of 2518 North Eighteenth street, in the Standard Oil Co. filling station at 4559 West Florissant avenue.

He told further how he and his wife fled from St. Louis, abandoning the automobile in which they had driven from Kansas City, and had walked to Wentzville, 43 miles, with nothing to eat until after their arrival there, which was two days after the robbery.

Under charges in Kansas City. Besides the charge against him in St. Louis, Taylor is charged in Kansas City with the sale of a talking machine which he was buying on time payments and theft of the automobile which he drove here, it having been a rented car. When Stone was brought before him today and identified him as his assailant in the filling station, Taylor said:

"Yes, I needed the money." He added: "But you must let my wife go. She had nothing to do with any of those things. I'll tell you about it."

He related that he had married his wife, a telephone operator, in April after a courtship of a year and one-half during which, he said, he had spent $500 in automobile hire with the man from whom he obtained the automobile, to leave Kansas City. He said that he had many friends in Kansas City and that after his marriage they continued their associations with him in the apartment to which he had taken his wife.

"We rank a good deal of corn whiskey," he said, "until my wife said that she would leave me if the drinking didn't stop. I told her that the only way to stop the drinking was to get rid of my friends and the best way to do that was to leave Kansas City. She agreed."

Reached St. Louis With $125. "I sold the $125 talking machine which we were buying on time for $40, hired the automobile and started. We took my wife's sister and her husband with us. We had to seek work but travel had hurt my appearance and I wanted to spruce up before applying for work as a pharmacist."

"My wife began to complain of hunger. Passing the oil filling station, I noticed that there was a lout there. 'Listen,' I said to my wife, 'I'm not going to have you starve. I'm going to get some money from him.' I put the Jack handle inside my coat and went in asking to be permitted to wash my hands. When the man began to count the money on the table, I drew the Jack handle and snatched at the money. The man showed such fight that I ran out. (Stone suffered scalp wounds from the Jack handle.)"

"My wife was waiting about a block away. When I told her what I had done, she began to cry. We drove away, panic-stricken. I do not know how we came to abandon the car. We were just frightened out of our wits, I guess. We boarded a street car and rode to the end of the line."

Slept in Haystack. "We walked all night and at daylight were at the St. Charles bridge. A fruit peddler let us ride across with him and we paid of course for toll at the other end. We had two cents then. We telegraphed for money to my wife's sister, but receiving no reply at 4 p. m., started to walk again. We walked most of the night, snatching a little sleep in a haystack. At daylight Thursday we stopped at a farm house and got a cup of coffee. We got

"We reached Wentzville at 8 a. m. My wife had lost one of her high heels from her shoes and her feet were blistered. She said she could go no further. Still we had had nothing to eat. We called my wife's brother, at Aurora, Mo., on

CARPENTIER CARRIED

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, July 23.—Georges Carpentier, apparently more popular than ever with the French sporting public, because of his gallant, if unsuccessful, attempt to capture the world's heavyweight championship, was given a reception upon his arrival in Paris at noon today from the United States.

The station was crowded with his admirers, and as Carpentier was affected almost to tears, he was captured by the surging crowd and borne along the Rue Londres.

The crowd, with shouts of "Carry him in triumph!" swept along the police lines and rushed along the thoroughfares. Several doors and windows in the neighborhood were broken in by the pressure of the throng, which choked the streets from building to building.

Police reinforcements finally fought their way to the center of the crowd and asked Carpentier politely to make the rest of the journey home in a taxicab the police had brought so that the crowd would disperse.

Carpentier arrived at Havre last night from New York with the intention of spending several weeks in France before again visiting the United States early next fall. In an interview shortly after he landed, Carpentier declared Champion Dempsey unquestionably the best fighter of the present day, and said he thought the heavyweight title would be safe in Dempsey's hands for four or five years.

Governor Makes Speech at William Hale Thompson Picnic at Chicago.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 23.—Gov. Len Small, in his first public speech since his indictment last Wednesday for embezzlement of State funds, told several thousand Republicans gathered at a William Hale Thompson picnic here this afternoon that "an aggregation of great interests" had "combined to defeat the will of the people."

Referring only incidentally to his indictment, the Governor declared the action of the Sangamon County grand jury was intended to frighten him into abandoning his plan to call a special session of the Legislature next winter.

"I realize, my friends," Small said, "that for a Governor of a State to stand up against the great moneyed interests, the Chicago Trust and traction barons, and stop the plundering of the State treasury and the robbing of the taxpayers, is almost like taking one's life into his own hands."

Attacking Attorney-General Brundage's request for $150,000 for the conduct of his office for the next two years, the Governor said that, after the appropriation had been cut by him to $50,000, it was still more than the Attorney-General of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin combined would spend.

It is possible the Turks will be forced to abandon the Brussa and Ismid fronts.

BILL FOR CLAY
ROADS PASSED BY
HOUSE, 97 TO 21Senate Expected to Kill
Measure, and It Is Expected House Will Refuse to Pass Ralph Bill.OUTLOOK FOR ROADS
LAW UNFAVORABLEOne St. Louisian, Forster,
Votes With Dirt-Roaders;
Others Cast Ballots
Against It, Wetzel Switching.From a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 23.—The House this afternoon passed its "pork barrel," "country-club" dirt road bill, after Chairman Bailey and other hard roaders had reached the conclusion that it would be impossible to obtain the passage in the House of a hard road measure, and voted for the bill to get it out of the way and to the Senate, where it can be killed.

Ninety-seven votes were cast for the bill and only 21 against it. All of the St. Louis members who were present, except Representative Forster, voted against it. Forster voted with the "pork-barrelers." Representative Wetzel, who voted with them Thursday on amendments, lined up with the bitter-enders of the hard-road element and voted against the passage of the bill.

There was little debate. Bailey said there were many things in the bill he did not like, but that he believed it to be the best bill it was possible to get through the House and that it possibly would form a working basis for the Senate and House to get together.

He also said that the Ralph bill, as amended in the Senate at the instance of Senator Irwin of Jefferson City, was a dirt road bill.

Representative Davidson of St. Louis announced the bill as "pork barrel" dirt road bill and said he believed he would be a traitor to the people of the State if he voted for it. Representative Crawford defended the bill.

The situation regarding the road legislation now is not at all favorable.

The Senate has passed the Ralph bill, which it seems virtually certain the House will refuse to pass, and the House has passed its bill, which it seems equally certain the Senate will reject.

The general opinion here now is that the Legislature will adjourn about Saturday of next week without passing any road bill.

Under the House bill each county must get at least two cross county highways. The cost of construction is fixed at $6000 a mile. The State Highway Commission, however, is authorized to apportion more than $6000 for a higher type of road if needed.

Reimbursement Provision.
The bill provides for reimbursing counties for roads already constructed by counties and taken over as part of the State system. The various counties will receive the amount expended on such highways.

Commission is created to administer the construction of the State road system.

The bill designates the roads in the different counties which are made a part of the State system.

Opportunities for land grant of possibly more than $1,000,000 were disclosed today in the House road bill by Representatives Casper M. Edwards of Dunklin County.

Edwards said a study of it had convinced him that it was so drawn that land owners along the routes of the proposed State roads will be in a position to mulct the State of enormous amounts of money for rights of way for the roads.

It has previously been shown that designations of some of the roads were changed from the McCullough-Morgan routes, to take them through the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad, which is owned by the members of the Legislature.

"The House bill, by designating the towns and other points through which the roads in each county pass," Edwards said, "definitely fixes the routes of the roads, which cannot be materially changed by the Highway Commission. This means that it will be impossible for the State to receive gifts of land right of way or to receive any bargains in the purchase of right of way."

Roads Through Private Land.
"Of course, much of the proposed State road system is already laid 40 feet or more wide, thus meeting the requirements of the bill, but there also is a large part of it which will be cut through private land, or follow narrow roads where additional right of way must be procured to

$60,000,000 FEDERAL TAX
ON 1917 AND 1918 RETURNS
DISPUTED BY U. S. STEEL

NEW YORK, July 23.—The Government's claim to approximately $60,000,000 in income taxes from the United States Steel Corporation is being disputed, it was announced by Chairman Elbert H. Gary of the corporation. This amount is equal to $11.80 a share on the 5,093,025 shares of common stock.

"In making our income tax returns to the Government for 1917 and 1918," said Gary, "we raised questions concerning $50,000,000 of taxes. Believing these were not taxable, we claimed credit for them in our returns."

"Recently, the Government representatives have been discussing with us the question relating to these items."

BRITAIN IS DISARMING,
DECLARES NORTHCLEFFELondon Publisher in New York
Tells of Reductions in Empire's Forces.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 23.—Lord Northcliffe, discussing the Irish question on his arrival today from England, on his way to the Far East, said: "We are very hopeful, but it must be remembered that a problem of 700 years cannot be settled in seven days."

He declared President Harding's invitation to the great Powers for a conference to discuss disarmament had been enthusiastically received in Europe. He thought the President's move a very wise one.

Great Britain, he said, not only was talking disarmament but actually disarming since the close of the war. British battleships were rotting away at Southampton, he asserted, while 10,000 men had been sliced off the navy personnel since the armistice. He said the standing army of the empire, including all the colonial troops, amounted to only 300,000 men, and would be further reduced. He declared Britain was making a mistake, however, in scrapping airships.

He reported that the Government was encouraging the operation of commercial aircraft and that a non-stop flight, from the British Isles to Australia in airships of the Zeppelin type was being planned.

He declined to discuss the rupture between his publication, the Times, and Premier Lloyd George.

He expects to go to Washington as soon as possible, where he will call on the President depends upon Mr. Harding's pleasure in the matter. He will sail from Vancouver, Aug. 6, on a trip to Australia, China, Japan, the Philippines, India and other countries, in which he expects to study various international problems.

Two Men Chief Accusers.
Sheriff Willmann's chief accusers are Justice A. H. Werneymeyer, who told of having informed Willmann July 9 of the location of the still on Louis A. Wolfberger's farm on Olive street, and who told of statements made to him by Wolfberger, and A. E. Stuckman, former Deputy Sheriff, who resigned last Monday, declaring that he was disgusted with Willmann's policy, and charging that the Sheriff had delayed in informing him, in his opinion, should have been made as soon as information as to the location of stills was obtained.

Justice Werneymeyer said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that he would not make affidavit to anything, but that, if summoned as a witness in a proceeding of any sort, he would testify verbally to everything that he has said. Werneymeyer said that, according to his understanding of the law, the duty of making affidavits in removal proceedings rested solely upon the prosecuting attorney, and that the prosecuting attorney should state, in his affidavit, the nature of the information which had come to him, and should then call witnesses to testify to the facts.

"I don't want to be in the position of instituting this proceeding," Werneymeyer said, "because, if it should not succeed, I might be held liable for costs. But I will testify to the truth of every statement I have made."

Stuckman said today that he asked for the removal of Willmann, which will be filed with the Circuit Clerk at Clayton. If Willmann desires an immediate hearing, he can enter his appearance in the Circuit Court and the proceedings can go forward at once. Under the law applying to civil procedure, under which such removal actions would be brought, the matter in the ordinary course would come up at the next term of the St. Louis County court, which will begin the third Monday in September.

Barrett intends to co-operate closely with Mueller, he said, and probably would send one of his assistants to aid Mueller in the case.

The Attorney-General also has set in motion, he said, a separate investigation, designed to go into all matters covered in recent exposures on rail.

of Public Welfare.

Prosecuting Attorney Mueller of St. Louis County today undertook the task of obtaining affidavits to the charges made against Sheriff John Willmann, of neglect of duty in failing to raid whisky stills whose locations were known to him.

At the conference in Attorney-General Barrett's office in Jefferson City yesterday, at which Willmann made his defense before Gov. Hyde and the Attorney-General, it was decided that Willmann's chief accusers should be asked to make affidavits to their previous statements, as the basis of a removal proceeding against the Sheriff. This was done although Willmann made a favorable impression on the Governor and Attorney-General. The Governor and Attorney-General gave out statements to the effect that they were not convinced of the truth of the charges, but considered that a formal official inquiry would be necessary.

Gov. Hyde said to the Post-Dispatch correspondent in Jefferson City today that he thought it would be best to let the Legislature pass a law in St. Louis County for raids on stills and other emergency duty. He said he talked of this point with Attorney-General Gardner in the conference yesterday, and that Gardner told him that a legal means of doing this existed at one time. The Governor said the Sheriff seemed to have difficulty in getting enough men with practical experience for raids, and he thought the occasional lending of policemen, up to the number of 150, as special deputies, would be a great help in suppressing county lawlessness. He said he would seek a legal opinion on this matter.

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—His motor stalled 15,000 feet in the air, Raymond G. Fisher, forest service pilot, landed his plane on a tiny islet in Crater Lake, Ore., sent a wireless for repairs and finally sailed away between precipices a thousand feet high.

Fisher saw only the island as an available landing spot Thursday when his engine failed. The lake, set in the basin of an old crater and supposed to be the deepest lake on the continent, could be approached only through the rock walls a quarter of a mile high. Fisher made it, set up his wireless and asked for a set of spark plugs.

Another plane arriving overhead was signalled away because there was no room on the islet for two moving planes. The relief pilot attached the spark plugs to parachutes and swooping down close dropped enough on the island that Fisher could find four that night by torch light.

Shortly after making repairs Fisher had winged his way out of the hole and was safely enroute to Medford, Ore., his base.

HARDING PETITIONED TO LET

By the Associated Press.
HART, Mich., July 23.—A petition to President Harding asking that the railroads of the country be turned over to Henry Ford, the automobile manufacturer, for operation, signed by 400 fruit growers of Oceana County, was mailed to Washington today.

The fruit growers, who allege in the petition that present freight rates are taking most of the profits on their crops, pointed out that Ford recently reduced freight rates on his railroad, the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton.

The body of a Studebaker touring car, stripped of its motor and wheels, was hauled out of the Mississippi River at a point opposite the wireless tower, about 700 feet south of the city waterworks, yesterday afternoon, by city detectives and the representative of an insurance company.

Due to the receding stage of the river, the top of the automobile became visible a few weeks ago, and the police were notified. Detectives who a few weeks ago recovered two cars from the river and one from a pond near Namekiki, Ill., were sent to raise this one.

In the cases of the cars recovered on the East Side it appeared that some, or all of them, were run into the water under their own power. One, a Ford, was in high gear when recovered.

Apparently Thrown From Bluff.
From the condition of the body recovered yesterday, however, the police were of the opinion that it had been hauled to the spot on a truck. The point where it was found is at the foot of a 35-foot bluff from which it apparently had been toppled.

Detectives said the only Studebaker reported stolen and not yet accounted for, was that of R. J. Goodman, 2331 Hickory street, which disappeared, the owner reported, from in front of his house, June 13.

It was suggested that thieves might have stripped the car of the motor, wheels and tires, and then thrown the body into the river.

Woods Tonight After After-

By the Associated Press.
PECTONVILLE, Md., July 23.—President Harding arrived at his week-end camping place here in time to take off his coat, get a business-like grip on an ax and cut enough wood to cook lunch for the whole party. He found saddle horses awaiting at the camp and planned to do the first horseback work he has done in many years during the afternoon, following it up with a night in the woods under canvas.

The President's car was met at Pectonville, Md., on its way up from Washington by a machine occupied by Harvey S. Firestone, Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison, hosts of the chief executive on his brief vacation trip. Mr. Harding changed to their machine and made the run to the camp with them.

DUBLIN, July 23.—The impression is growing here that the Irish peace offer made by Premier Lloyd George to Eamon de Valera, the republican leader, will work out in a settlement. The terms of the offer are still being held in the strictest confidence.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, July 23.—The outstanding feature of the Government's Irish peace proposals to Eamon de Valera is a concession of fiscal autonomy, it was stated on high authority here today. The position of Ulster is amply secured.

Gen. Jan C. Smuts, South African Premier, is expected to leave London for Ireland early next week, probably Monday, to place his services at the disposal of both Eamon de Valera, the Republican leader, and Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, during their critical consideration of the Irish peace proposals made by Premier Lloyd George.

In circles which are closely observing the developments of the Irish situation much satisfaction is expressed at the prospect of Gen. Smuts' re-entry into the negotiations in the manner indicated. This is particularly the case in view of the persistent reports that the British Prime Minister's offer, submitted to De Valera Thursday, included a plea for dominion home rule for Ireland on the lines of the South African Constitution. Concerning the workings of this form of government, Gen. Smuts, it is pointed out, will be able to give information of the greatest value.

Two Important Points.
The future course of the Irish negotiations seems to turn on two important points—first, whether an outright meeting between Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, and Eamon de Valera, can be brought about in Ireland, and, second, whether Mr. de Valera can be induced to consent to

LITTLE IF ANY REDUCTION IN FEDERAL TAXES

Government Budget, as Announced by Secretary Mellon, Will Require at Least $4,000,000,000.

HOUSTON'S FORECAST OF EXPENSES UPHELD

Different Distribution of Burden Is All That Can Be Promised Under the Present Conditions.

By DAVID LAWRENCE,
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Taxes for the year 1921, which must be paid next March, will be reduced slightly, if at all.

The painful truth that, after all the talk about economy, the American taxpayer will not be rid of his war burden is at last being admitted by leaders of the Republican party. Secretary Mellon of the Treasury Department on the one hand has told the Ways and Means Committee of the House that, judging by what has happened thus far, fully $4,000,000,000 in revenue will be needed to run the Government, and Senator Penrose has intimated, on the other hand, that he had little hope of seeing taxes reduced.

It will be remembered that Secretary Houston of the Democratic administration told the country last year that he did not believe Government expenses could be cut below $4,000,000,000, and that, therefore, all promises of lower taxation were unwarranted.

Tariff Bill Disappointing.
So a Republican Secretary of the Treasury now agrees with a Democratic Secretary of the Treasury, in naming $4,000,000,000 as the Government budget and all hopes of lower taxation are going glimmering. Mellon has gone a step further by telling the Republican Ways and Means Committee another painful fact, namely, that the tariff bill, about which there has been so much controversy, and which has passed the House, will not yield more than $450,000,000 annually, and perhaps less.

Originally it had been estimated that the new tariff would furnish $600,000,000. Thus the Fordney tariff will bring only about one-tenth of the total revenue needed to run the Government. There was a tiny when a tariff bill would yield about half the revenue of the Government, but that was when the United States could be managed with a single billion dollars.

Secretary Mellon's statement that the new tariff would yield only one-tenth of the revenue needed is a gentle hint to Congress that means must still be provided to take care of the nine-tenths, namely $3,550,000,000.

While the excess profits tax will be repealed, the truth is that particular provisions of the excess revenue law have been automatically repealed by business conditions and the advantage in actually taking it off the statute books lies in stimulating American business enterprise, which has hitherto been restrained by the excess profits tax.

To Readjust the Burden.
Thus it has been realized for some time that in place of the excess profits tax, even if not repealed, some better means of raising money was necessary. No definite plan has as yet been worked out. The big fact, however, is that, instead of tax reduction, there will be tax readjustments. This means that the burden on the taxpayers as a whole will remain the same, but that the taxes will be differently distributed.

The question of whether this distribution will fall heavily on the big corporations and more heavily on the smaller incomes is difficult to settle, because Congress is a political body and the congressional elections are not so far away.

The Republicans would like to repeal the taxes on soft drinks and upon transportation, while, at the same time, increasing some of the taxes on business and production, but they are confronted, on the one hand, by the desire to relieve the small taxpayer, and, on the other hand, by the knowledge that economic conditions cannot be much improved, or unemployment diminished, unless American business is free from the restraints of overtaxation.

Little Hope Held Out for Cut of Tax on Normal Incomes.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The House Ways and Means Committee will set out tax revision with the idea of raising $4,000,000,000 in revenue, exclusive of postal receipts, in the next year. Chairman Fordney said last night.

As for a reduction in the taxes on normal incomes or the raising of the personal income exemptions, Fordney held out little hope. He said, however, that, if sufficient new sources of revenue can be tapped to offset the losses anticipated through abolition of the excess profits and reduction of the higher surtaxes on incomes, the personal income exemptions will get some consideration as will the rates on the normal incomes.

SHORTAGE OF CHICAGO BANK NEARLY MILLION

Estimate by State Examiners; President of Institution Is Being Sought.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 23.—Directors of the Michigan Avenue Trust Co., which was closed three days ago by the State Auditor, today voted to offer a reward of $10,000 for the arrest of Warren C. Spurgin, the missing president.

Lloyds of London, on Spurgin's bond for $100,000, was expected to offer an additional sum. Following the directors' meeting it was announced that the State examiners have been unable to determine the value of securities in companies organized by Spurgin, and left in the vault to cover the million dollar shortage in the bank's funds.

W. T. Burns, representative of Lloyds, announced today that the missing president had approximately $300,000 in cash and securities in his possession when he left town six days ago with his wife and children. A world wide hunt has been started for Spurgin, Burns said.

H. R. Savage, State Examiner, who, with six assistants, is auditing the bank's books, expects to have a complete statement covering the shortage ready by Monday.

A committee of five depositors is making plans for reorganizing the bank. The committee is headed by Clarence A. Beutel, who discovered the shortage which the examiners said today would reach nearly $1,000,000. About Trapdoor Found Beneath Piano; Bartender Knocked Down and Seven Revolvers Seized.

Quantities of whisky, beer and wine were found in the cellar of a saloon in Madison, under a trapdoor which was covered by a piano. In a raid at noon today by Federal prohibition agents from Peoria, Ill., who announced that they had come to "clean up" Madison County and afterward started out with the intention of making other raids.

Chief Agent Kidder was in charge of the raiding party, which included three other agents and a Deputy United States Marshal, who was along to serve search warrants, where necessary.

Kidder, dressed in a cap and shabby suit, went in the saloon of John Antonopoulos, Madison, at noon and bought a drink, which he said was whisky. As he bought a second one the rest of his party entered. Jim Haves, a bartender, started to draw a revolver, but an agent knocked him down. He was arrested, together with the proprietor and William Fagan, another bartender.

Three barrels of beer, 101 quarts of whisky and five gallons of wine were found and confiscated, as were about seven revolvers found beneath the bar. The arrested men were taken to Granite City police headquarters.

BERGDOLL HEARING BREAKS UP IN ROW

Son Questioned About Alleged $5000 Payment by Mother to Maj. Campbell.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 23.—The Bergdoll investigating committee's session broke up suddenly today after Charles A. Braun of Philadelphia, a witness, had called Representative Johnson, Democrat, Kentucky, of the committee a "liar," and the latter made an attempt to reach the witness.

Members of the committee and spectators seized Johnson before he could reach Braun. The latter was taken from the room by the sergeant at arms of the House and Chairman Peters moved adjournment.

The trouble arose while Johnson was cross-examining Braun, alleging he was refusing to answer questions. Braun is a brother of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the draft dodger, but has legally changed his name. He told the House committee that the first he heard of the alleged payment by his mother of $5000 to Maj. Bruce R. Campbell was when he read it in the newspapers.

Called by Maj. Campbell.
Braun was called as a witness by Maj. Campbell in connection with Mrs. Bergdoll's charge that she had paid the officer $5000 to help get the slacker out of prison. Campbell denied that he received the money.

James E. Romig, formerly a Philadelphia Police Magistrate and long a confidential adviser of the Bergdolls, also was called by Campbell. He testified that when he asked Campbell to defend Irwin Bergdoll, also a slacker, the Major declared that he had had enough of the Bergdolls.

Braun was called as a witness by the Army today at the committee yesterday that not a single penny of the $5000 placed by him with a Wall Street firm for stock market trading last year was received from the Bergdoll family.

Flatly denying the charge by Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll of Philadelphia that he had been paid $5000 to aid in obtaining freedom for Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, her draft-dodging son, Maj. Campbell declared that the sum sent to the brokers was his own money, hidden by his wife at her home since the early days of the war.

Tells of Hidden Treasure.
The Major, called here hurriedly without opportunity to examine the charge against him, first declined to testify at this time as to the source of the fund. But, pressed hard by the committee, he turned about suddenly and told of the hidden treasure, and a moment later related in detail how a $500 investment placed with the late Milton Young of Lexington, Ky., before the war grew to $5000 by 1917. It was this same sum, he said, that was hidden away and later shifted to Wall Street and lost.

Professing ignorance as to how the young investment had increased, Maj. Campbell said that it had been turned back to him by a man, still living, but whose name he declined at the moment to give. Then, in the midst of a sharp exchange with a committee man, Campbell broke in, declaring, "Oh, hell, it was my father."

At this point the committee decided to call the father, William R. Campbell, of Lexington, who was asked to come here at once.

Father to Be Called.
Extremely reluctant to touch upon family affairs to clear himself of the charges, Maj. Campbell declared that it had been his purpose to ask time that he might be able to corroborate fully every word of his testimony. It was for this reason, he said, that he did not want to disclose all of his evidence until he had been allowed time to submit proof in denial of the accusations.

The Major asserted that a "fright-

PRESIDENT WOULD HAVE COUNTRY OF PLAY

Presenting Golf Championship Trophy to Barnes, He Praises Spirit of Players.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 23.—A hope that the United States may always be imbued with a spirit of good sportsmanship was expressed by President Harding in a speech late yesterday when he presented the national open golf championship cup to James M. Barnes of Pelham, N. Y., at conclusion of play in the tournament over the Columbia Country Club course.

The President made the presentation on a green near the clubhouse where he and Vice President Coolidge had watched the final play of the tournament. He paid a high tribute to the winner as a worthy example of sportsman and gentleman, and also took occasion publicly to congratulate Jack Hutchinson of Chicago on his recent winning of the British open championship title.

President Harding said: "I like to think of our country as a good sporting country. If I had my wish I'd want a republic where everybody can play."

"The beauty of golf is that everybody can play it, and he can play it at a minimum cost if he only keeps on the course."

"It is not becoming perhaps to philosophize about golf, but let me say to you, Mr. Barnes, that you are typical of the best in a noble and becoming sport. And let me say to you, Mr. Barnes, that you are typical of the best in a noble and becoming sport. And let me say to you, Mr. Barnes, that you are typical of the best in a noble and becoming sport."

full injustice had been done him by the committee in permitting Mrs. Bergdoll and a representative of the brokers to testify when he was not present. He protested vigorously against that agent of the Army Intelligence Service, in inspecting his bank account at New York, had not shown that at a prior date he had more than $5000 on deposit. A telegram, requesting that it verify his statement to this effect, and to send its answer in care of Chairman Peters, was dispatched.

At various times Maj. Campbell declared he and his wife had $17,000 on deposit, not counting the sum lost on the market, but he declined to mention the names of banks until he could get hold of his papers, en route with his household effects from Governor's Island to Little Rock, Ark.

CONFESSIONS OF BASEBALL PLAYERS HAVE DISAPPEARED

RULING MONDAY ON ADMITTANCE TO CASE

State Yesterday Introduced Testimony to Effect That Carl Zork of St. Louis Started Fixing Plot.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 23.—When the trial of former White Sox players and alleged gamblers charged with entering into a conspiracy to throw the 1919 world's series to Cincinnati, resumed Monday, one of the first questions to be decided by the court will be whether the grand jury statements signed by Eddie Cicotte, Claude Williams and Joe Jackson, can be admitted as evidence, despite the disappearance of the immunity waivers.

The court has already ruled that the statements, if admitted, can apply only to those players making the statements. With yesterday's evidence entangling Joe Jackson, former outfielder, Louis Levi, alleged Des Moines gambler and Carl Zork, alleged gambler from St. Louis, every man now on trial has been hit by the fire of the State's Attorney's attack.

The trial is expected to take up all next week. Defense witnesses will take the stand early in the week.

Confessions Missing.
Original copies of the grand jury confessions in which Cicotte, Jackson and Williams declared they had been paid from $5000 to $10,000 to throw games in the 1919 world series and the statements they signed waiving immunity are missing, it became known yesterday when the State began its fight to introduce the confessions.

The announcement came as a dramatic sensation near the end of the day's session of court when the State placed Harding Replegle, former Assistant State's Attorney, who directed the first grand jury investigation of the baseball scandal, on the stand, and revealed that it would have to depend on carbon copies of the confessions and on the testimony of men who heard them and who are said to have seen the immunity waivers signed. The defense plans to contend that the confessions were made involuntarily.

Carl Zork of St. Louis Named.
Judge Hugo Friend sent the jury from the courtroom and will hear all of the evidence in the matter before deciding if it is admissible. If he decides it is, it will be repeated before the jury. Indications are that Williams, Cicotte and Jackson will take the stand during this private hearing to testify that their confessions were not made voluntarily. Replegle, Judge Charles McDonald and grand jurors will be the State's witnesses.

This is the second loss of papers in the baseball case, copies of the grand jury testimony having been made and offered for sale in Chicago some time ago.

Previous to beginning the fight over the confessions the state introduced testimony naming Carl Zork, St. Louis, now on trial, as an instigator of the alleged sellout, and Ben and Louis Levi of Kokomo, Ind., as bet placers for Abe Attell during the series.

Replegle testified that Zork, during a conversation with him the day after the fourth game of the series, in which the alleged game-throwing scores—that takes you all in—I have seen the champion of this day drive into the rough and then stop and plant his feet and never drive until he was confident and sure of himself. He said he only apply that police and confidence to other things in life we will achieve even more than we have."

Testimony of Betts.
Zork's attorneys promptly announced they would prove an alibi for Zork, saying he left for St. Louis at 9:20 p. m. that day, whereas Redmond said the conversation lasted from about 8 to 11 p. m. Redmond was vigorously cross-examined by the defense and called Attorney Henry Berger a liar when Berger declared he was a gambling bookmaker.

John O. Seys, Chicago National League Club secretary, testified to holding bets made by Attell and the two Levis and that Attell warned him not to bet on Cincinnati in the series.

Explaining that the proposals are based on Dominion self-government and are made to both the North and South, the correspondent continues: "If the South accepts, it will be open to the North independently to reject them. There would be the unhappy perpetuation of what the Sinn Fein stigmatize as partition. It is part of the Cabinet's scheme to bring Ireland into the empire. Ireland must not and cannot be coerced, and that the Sinn Fein should recognize the justice of applying to the North the principle of self-determination in local affairs."

But while, according to the Cabinet's plans, the North is to retain in full measure the safeguards provided by the "better government in Ireland act," there will be very strong inducements for the North and South to cooperate in establishing and maintaining a central governing authority for the whole of Ireland to deal with questions of common interest."

BERLIN LOOKS FOR TERMS OF U. S. TREATY IN AUGUST

Reichstag Committee Notified It May Be Expected to Examine Preliminary Proposals Then.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
Copyright, 1921, by the Press Publishing Co. (The New York World).

BERLIN, July 23.—The Foreign Relations Committee of the Reichstag has been notified that it may be expected to examine the preliminary terms of the German-American peace treaty by the middle of August. While the Germans, as well as the Americans here, are scrupulously silent over the negotiations between Drexel, the American commissioner, and Dr. Frederick Rosen, the Foreign Minister, it is understood in the diplomatic circles that the majority of the Governments are disposed to accept the American terms, even though the Versailles treaty with the League of Nations is eliminated.

A part of the Cabinet, led by Minister of Justice Schiffer, maintains it would be better to force concessions from America, thus arriving at a type of treaty on lines of which the Versailles pact might be redrawn. But Chancellor Wirth, Foreign Minister Rosen and Minister of Reparations Rathenau, an important trio, are disposed to trust the American spirit of fair play, believing it better to have an American in the reparations commission and not to bother about details.

It is realized here that the negotiations on the treaty will require sending a German commission either to Washington or to neutral capital, possibly The Hague. The Government wishes peace assured, as one of its triumphs, to present at the reopening of the Reichstag in September, when it expects to fight for its existence.

TULSA CHIEF IS FOUND GUILTY ON TWO COUNTS

Woman Assistant Attorney-General Stresses Failure to Disarm Negroes Before Riot.

By the Associated Press.
TULSA, Ok., July 23.—John A. Gustafson, suspended Chief of Police, last night was found guilty by a jury of having failed to take proper precautions for public safety on the night and day of the recent race riot here and also guilty on another count of conspiracy to free automobile thieves and collect rewards.

The jury deliberated six hours. The instructions to the jury by Judge Redmond S. Cole generally were regarded as favorable to the accused chief. The instructions stressed the point that willful negligence must be proven beyond a reasonable doubt and willful negligence was defined as negligence for an evil or bad purpose.

Chief's Responsibility Defined.
The jury also was instructed that the chief could not be held responsible for any unlawful or wrongful acts committed by police officers or special commissioned men on the night of the riot unless such actions were a result of orders issued by him or he was present when the acts were committed.

REGULATION OF MILK SALES HERE UPHELD

Supreme Court Rules It Is Legal for City to Adopt Plan of Permits.

The St. Louis ordinance regulating the sale of milk was upheld as constitutional today by Division No. 1 of the Missouri Supreme Court in an opinion written by Judge Grimes, all members concurring except John Woodson.

The constitutionality of the ordinance was attacked by Harry Kellman, who at the time he was fined $25 for selling milk without a permit from the Board of Public Health in 1916, was a dairyman at 816 Clay avenue.

The opinion states: "At many times we have ruled that the city of St. Louis can pass ordinances regulating the sale of milk and that the standard of quality below which milk can be sold."

The opinion further states that it is proper for the city to adopt a plan of permits because such permits are to the holder and the public a guarantee that the public can with safety buy milk from the holder.

SAYS HOUSE ROADS BILL WOULD PERMIT BIG LAND GRAB

meet the 40-foot width requirement of the bill.

"If the bill left to the Highway Commission, as the Ralph bill does, the Senate does, discretion as to routes to be followed, the State would receive the right of way for the roads without cost in most instances and at very low cost in others. But with the routes definitely fixed, the land owner will take the position that the road is bound to be put across his land and he will place the price of his land at the highest possible figure."

"If the Highway Commission had the power to locate the roads, you would find land owners along the route bidding against each other for the road and offering free right of way."

Predicts Grab of $1,000,000.
The bill provides for condemnation of land for right of way, but that will make very little difference. The neighbors of the land owner whose property is to be taken will be the jury which will fix the value to be paid by the State. I have for the slightest doubt that they will be a very general disposition in nearly all of the counties of the State to grab just as much of the road bond money as can be obtained through the sale of right of way, and I don't doubt that that will amount to the bond issue fund to the extent of more than $1,000,000, and it may be considerably more than that."

Senator Ralph, who is in charge of road legislation in the Senate, last night said he expected the house bill to be killed in the Senate and that no effort would be made to amend it to conform to the Senate bill.

Ralph Sees Defeat in Senate.
"The amendments would be numerous," he said, "and I fail to see that it would do any good for the Senate to waste time on the bill

Some Adults Join Children in Taking "Ducking"—Park Department Experiment.

The outdoor "showers" installed by the Park Department along Daggett avenue near Boardman street were opened late yesterday, about 500 children disporting themselves in the water.

An iron supply pipe has been erected along one side of the street and at intervals of about two and one-half feet, shower nozzles of the bathroom variety have been attached. In full play, these showers lay down a barrage of water that reaches the width of the street.

The showers will be open from 5 to 9 each evening. The installation is the result of a plan of the Park Department to provide a place for children to play and to provide a place for adults to take a shower.

BROKER CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY IN BANK FAILURE

Capiases Served on Ralph G. Ernst in Connection With Shortage at Arcola (Ill.) Institution.

Following the returning of 185 indictments yesterday by the Douglas County (Ill.) grand jury, against persons charged with complicity in the failure of the Arcola State Bank, a. Arcola, Ill., five capiases charging criminal conspiracy were served last night on Ralph G. Ernst, 26 years old, of 5549 Pershing avenue, who has been operating a grain brokerage office in the Murphy Building, East St. Louis. He was taken back to Arcola last night.

The bank's shortage, fixed by the grand jury at $246,000, was said to be due to the proceedings of certain of the bank officers, and one of the practices attributed to them was that of permitting the John M. Ernst & Son Feed Mills to draw upon the bank for large sums when the company had no money in the bank.

Store Closes When Bank Fails. Prior to the failure of the bank, in May, John M. Ernst & Son had a feed store at Eighth street and Trembley avenue, East St. Louis, of which Ralph G. Ernst is said to have been in charge. It was closed after the bank failure.

Ralph Ernst was arrested yesterday by the East St. Louis police, upon receipt of a telegram from the Sheriff of Douglas County. Immediately a law firm applied to Judge Cook of the East St. Louis City Court for a writ of habeas corpus to obtain Ernst's release.

Judge Cook granted the application, fixing the bond at $3000, but Chief of Police Mulcahy, learning of what was going on, sent Ernst to Belleville, which is out of the City Court's jurisdiction.

Deputy Sent From Arcola. The lawyers then hastened to Belleville and made a similar application before Circuit Judge Crow, but Judge Crow, upon being shown the telegram, declined to take any action. Ernst was kept in the county jail until a Deputy Sheriff from Arcola arrived last night to take him away.

Four indictments charging conspiracy were returned against John M. Ernst, and a telegram said that he had been arrested yesterday at Richmond, Ind. It is charged that the Ernst concern or members of it got a total of $175,000 from the bank.

A majority of the indictments were against Michael Quirk, 70 years old, president of the bank, and his son, John, the cashier, who are charged with the operations which wrecked the institution.

H. Devin, architect, who has designed other medical buildings in Brussels, and A. Gossens, a lawyer, who represents the Conseil des Hospices, the board in charge of the public hospitals of Brussels.

GAME PLAYED BY ROCKEFELLER NOT IN DICTIONARY OR HOYLE

"Numerica," However, Is Found in New York Toy Shop at Cost of 49 Cents.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, July 23.—There was a lot of head-scratching and memory-searching yesterday when an unusual word appeared in the news. It was named in the press that John D. Rockefeller played "numerica" every evening after dinner, sometimes alone and sometimes with opponents, and because of this playing, together with a few other things, like leading a regular life, and eating scantily and getting plenty of sleep and fresh air, probably would live to be 100, or in other words, 18 years more, according to Dr. H. F. Biggar, his physician, and then.

There were the questions: "How do you play it?" and "what is it all about?" The dictionary told nothing of numerica. Nor did Hoyle's volume on games. A one-man newspaper expedition was sent out and in 20 minutes found numerica in a toy shop—and here's the game the richest man in the world plays every evening.

It costs 49 cents. It's 27 years old. It's played on a table with a flock of pasteboard squares, one inch across. One can play or four. Numerica has to do with numbers. The highest numeral it has to with is 13.

Each player—green, red, yellow and blue—gets 52 bits of cardboard, four square, four round, from 1 to 13. One player is elected "leader" and he shuffles his numbers while they lay face downward, as the others arrange theirs into new little piles. But if he doesn't, he has to take whatever number he gets and build up or down from that.

He may maneuver his numbers from one column to another—provided they "fit"—but if they don't, he must lay his little paper squares aside until he can find a place for them. Sometimes he never finds a place for them at all. Theoretically, you can "get rid of" every card of 32 of your pretty little colored squares; but actually, you can't.

Maybe numerica helps one to live a century. Or, maybe again, the wilful player, as the expert said, "you had to play that every night for a week, it would seem like a century."

Veteran Engineer of the 999 in CAB for HIS OLD-TIME RUN Starts Famous Locomotive and De Witt Clinton Train on the Trip to Chicago.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 23.—Charles Hogan, aged 70, who manned the old engine, 999, when he made her record run of 112.5 miles an hour on May 18, 1893, was again at the throttle of the famous Empire State when she left here for Chicago, drawing the old De Witt Clinton train.

Hogan declared he did not know if he would be the throttle all the way to Buffalo, but he insisted he would engineer the trip over the scene between Lancaster and Crittenden, where he established the record that has never been beaten.

ORDER IN WAGE CASE STANDS Arbitration Board Restrained From Decision in Railways Controversy. Judge English in the Federal Court in East St. Louis today denied the motion to dissolve a restraining order, prohibiting the members of the Arbitration Board from giving a decision in the wage controversy between the East Side street railway companies, and their employees. A hearing on a permanent order will be held in October.

Through a resignation of one of the Arbitration Board members, the railways companies were left without a member on the board and two members proceeded to perform the duties. The companies have put in effect a wage scale of 51 cents an hour, a reduction of 19 cents.

JAILED SOVIET "ENVOY" HAD SPECIAL CABINET

Federal Attorney Tells How Business Men Provided for Russian.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, July 23.—Further details of the manner in which Max Schallman, a Russian, distributed "contracts" for supplies for Soviet Russia totaling more than $450,000, were revealed today by Assistant United States District Attorney Robert A. Milroy and Jacob Spolonsky of the Department of Justice, who arrested the Russian.

Thousands of dollars were spent by business men in several cities entertaining Schallman, the Government agents assert. A. J. Doyle, president of a local shoe company, told how he had obtained a $25,000,000 contract for shoes from Schallman and sublet it to shoe manufacturers in Boston, Huntington, Ind., and Milwaukee.

So vast were the paper operations of the self-confessed agent of Lenin and Trotsky, Doyle told Milroy, that "an efficiency cabinet" was organized in Schallman's hotel offices, donated and furnished by another manufacturer who received another "contract."

Large Orders Busted Cabinet. The purpose of the cabinet was to solve the questions arising in the filing of such large orders. Doyle told the Government agents he spent $5000 entertaining Schallman and devoted eight months of his time, which he valued at $1500 a month, to the contract.

Samuel Schallman, son of Max, was a frequent guest when Doyle entertained the father, he said. And on one occasion leaned over the dinner table to whisper confidentially, "Do you know my mother's a niece of Trotsky?"

On another occasion, Doyle said, the son whispered that "Trotsky is on the north side with father. He's been here three days."

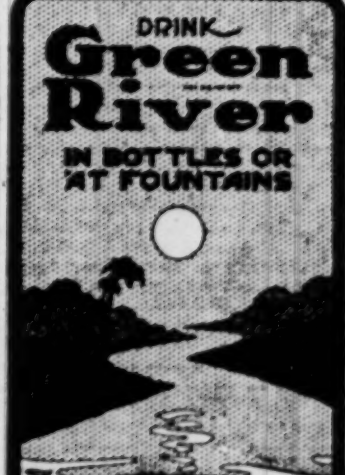

Schallman also had dealings with the Packard Motor Co. of Detroit, Doyle said, according to Milroy, and his plans interested the officials of that company to such a degree, the Assistant District Attorney added, that they offered to send him a special limousine for his family use. This offer Schallman is said to have refused.

Doyle reported he furnished shoes worth $125 to members of Schallman's family, while C. A. Carlier of the Erie Steam Shovel Works entertained the Schallmans from Nov. 15, 1920, until Thanksgiving, and purchased clothing and accessories for the Russian.

Business Men Do Work. The "Efficiency Cabinet" met in the building of the American Ice Co. on Michigan boulevard, where President McAvoy had furnished offices for Schallman after receiving a large contract. McAvoy was Chief d'Affaires of the automobile department in the Cabinet, while Doyle looked after shoes and other business men devoted their attention to clothing, buttons and other articles.

AUDITOR OF TRAIN, TELLS DETAILS OF HOLDUP

A. F. Jacobsmeyer, Relates How Missouri Pacific Stopped Last Night Near Van Dale, Ark., and Mail Car Was Looted.

ENGINEER FORCED TO UNCOUPLE CARS

Passenger Remained Quiet While Robbers Took Registered Mail and Contents of Express Safe.

A. F. Jacobsmeyer, of 4423 Ashland avenue, auditor of the Missouri Pacific train running between Memphis, Tenn., and St. Louis, which was held up and robbed near Van Dale, Ark., last night, reached St. Louis this morning and told details of the holdup as he received them from the crew and the express messenger and mail clerks.

The train was pulling out of Van Dale, he said, he saw the engine only about 200 yards when it stopped. The conductor went forward to see what was the trouble and was met by the robbers and ordered to go back into the train. Jacobsmeyer also started forward, but saw the flashlights of the robbers and realized what was up and returned.

The conductor went through the train informing the passengers that a holdup was in progress, but that the robbers probably would confine their operations to the mail and express cars. The passengers kept their seats and there was no excitement.

How Holdup Was Carried Out. Jacobsmeyer learned later that two robbers, riding the tender, compelled the engineer and fireman and compelled the former to stop the train and uncouple the mail and express cars and run a short distance ahead with them. They then entered the cars and took the registered mail pouches and the contents of the safe in the express car.

The locomotive was then uncoupled, the foot was loaded on it and the engineer was compelled to run it half a mile, where an automobile was waiting. The foot was transferred to that and the robbers drove away.

Robbers' Faces Blacked. There were six men in the party. They were all dressed alike in overalls. The faces of five were blacked. The sixth seemed to be a negro. All appeared young. No shots were fired. The engine was then backed up and the train reassembled and proceeded on its way after a delay of an hour. From Cherry Valley, the next station, a report of the robbery was sent out. The engineer and fireman, express messenger and mail clerks left the train at Noble, Ark.

Jacobsmeyer had no information as to the contents of the registered pouches and the express safe.

Cross-Ties Piled on Track Before Train by Robbers.

By the Associated Press. MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 23.—In the holdup of the Missouri Pacific passenger train No. 305, running between Memphis and St. Louis, near Van Dale, Ark., last night, the robbers, said to have been five in number, all armed with rifles, piled cross-ties on the track and when the engineer slowed down they boarded the train, one of the men keeping the engineer and fireman covered, while the others boarded the mail and express cars. After the express cars were loaded with the mail and express packages and several pouches of mail had been thrown off the cars, the robbers loaded their loot into an automobile which drove up and made their escape.

Report Value of Stolen Express Packages Will Not Exceed $200.

By the Associated Press. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 23.—The robbers who held up the Memphis-St. Louis Missouri Pacific train near Vandale, Ark., last night, received but small reward for their work insofar as the express packages obtained were concerned, according to E. E. Honn, local assistant superintendent of the American Railway Express Co. Honn said that he had not received a detailed report, but the preliminary report indicated that the express obtained by the bandits would aggregate in value less than $200. The train does not carry money consignments, he said.

PARR HEARING CONTINUED

Defense to Present Three Witnesses Tuesday.

A hearing on a motion for new trial for George V. Parr, 21 years old, under sentence of life imprisonment, was adjourned today by Judge McElhinney in Clayton until next Tuesday. Parr was convicted on July 11 on a charge of killing Night Sheriff Eugene S. Conroy in Clayton on Aug. 20, 1920. Attorneys for the defense today obtained permission to produce three witnesses to testify that they passed the automobile in which Parr was one of three men just before the killing of Conroy and that Burke, one of the men, was working on the car. This testimony is intended to show that the automobile was not stopped for the purpose of a holdup, but for repairs.

MAN WHO DRIVES BY TRAFFIC SIGNAL ARRESTED AFTER CRASH

Robert Hall Escapes Injury When Auto Is Crashed Between Two Street Cars.

Robert Hall, 51 years old, of 2815 McRee avenue, after escaping injury when his automobile was crushed between a northbound and a southbound Park car at Eighteenth and Locust streets, was arrested by a traffic policeman, charged with violating signals at that corner.

Hall was driving west on Locust street, when, according to the policeman, the signal for north and south bound traffic to proceed was given. Hall, he reported, tried to beat the cars across and was caught between both and his machine damaged. Hall gave bond. He said he understood the signal gave him the right of way.

Emil Schefflin, 18, of 4719 Milentz avenue, suffered injuries to his back and internal injuries last night when struck by an automobile that failed to stop at Milentz and Gravois avenues. Policemen tracing a license number arrested Frank Beck, 50, of 2652 Orange street, a saloon keeper. He denied he had been in the vicinity of the accident.

Mrs. Viola Walters, 29, and her daughter, 11, of 2224 North Fourteenth street, suffered from shock, scalp wounds and cuts and bruises last night when an automobile in which they were riding with other members of the family and driven by Joseph Gilbert, 1937 North Seventeenth street, was wrecked in collision with an automobile driven by Samuel Gallop of 1822 South Broadway at Seventh and Soudard streets. The car was wrecked and witnesses told the police he was driving his machine at a high rate of speed.

COUPLE RESCUED FROM THIRD FLOOR OF HOUSE BY FIREMEN

Woman Unhurt in Jump From Second-Story Window in Apartment House Fire on the South Side.

Nicholas Reiser and his wife, Edna, living on the third floor of 1730 Mississippi avenue, were taken from their apartment by firemen at 1:20 a. m. today when they were trapped by a fire supposed to have started in the basement of the building from electric wires. Mrs. Reiser was overcome by smoke and was carried down a ladder by firemen. Reiser was able to climb down with the assistance of the firemen.

The first floor of the building is occupied by John Bagby and family, the second by Loren Wood and family. Mrs. Wood jumped from a second-floor window, but was not injured. The others got out by the stairways.

A passerby discovered smoke coming from the windows. The damage was estimated at $2000 by the police. A lighted candle set near an open window in the home of John Williams, 914A LaSalle street, when Williams and his family went out last evening, set fire to a curtain the fire communicating to the woodwork. The first floor of the building is occupied by William Ham and family. The damage to the building was estimated at $800. Ham's furniture was damaged $50 and Williams' $100.

MOONSHINE WHISKY NEAR SCENE OF ISLAND STILL BLAST

Three hundred gallons of moonshine whisky was found yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Morton of St. Charles County on Mayer's Island, where, in an explosion Wednesday night, two Italians received injuries which caused the death a few hours later, and three others were seriously burned.

Morton, accompanied by three men, went to the island, which is about 100 yards from the Missouri River from St. Charles, in a launch. They searched among the willows and cottonwoods and found the liquor in a barrel and in five-gallon cans. It was locked in an old spring wagon found on the island and the men pulled the vehicle to the shore. The receptacles and still apparatus which also had been collected could not be loaded on the launch in which they had come. They tried to construct a raft, but did not succeed and had to return to St. Charles at 10 p. m. with the confiscated liquor and apparatus, which were stored in the Courthouse.

Sheriff Grothe said he would take 10 men with him today and make a thorough search of Mayer's Island and Catfish Island adjoining, to discover whether there are other stills there.

CLOTHING IS ONLY NECESSITY TO RISE IN PRICE IN JUNE

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, July 23.—Clothing, with an average increase in price of nine-tenths of one per cent was the only necessity that went up during the month of June, according to statistics covering the entire United States, made public today by the National Industrial Conference Board.

Food was the only item that went down, the decrease being figured at nine-tenths of one per cent. All other items in the report said, remained stationary. The decrease in the average living cost was figured at two-tenths of one per cent. The statistics showed the decrease of living costs during the year ending July 1 amounted to 21 per cent. Counting the reductions up to July 1, however, living costs still show a net increase of 61 per cent over those of July 1, 1914.

Schooner Esperanto Breaking Up.

S., July 23.—The international champion schooner on a sand bar near Sable Island, was reported breaking up in a message received last night by the Department of Marine and Fisheries. Spars and wreckage, such as deck beams and decking, were floating ashore, it was stated.

New Book Reviews

"WHEN THE KING LOSES HIS HEAD, AND OTHER STORIES," by Leonid Andreyev. Translated by Archibald J. Wain. (International Book Publishing Co.)

HERE we have seven of the strongest short stories by this Russian realist and revolutionary. The first of these, that giving the title to the volume, is a fantasy of the French Revolution. It depicts the horrible orgies of the mob when the head of Louis was cut off by the guillotine. The rabble gathered about the machine to tear its wooden parts into splinters as souvenirs and to saturate their handkerchiefs and bathe their lips in royal blood. This fallen monarch is dubbed "The King of the Guillotine."

The mob, having thus performed its adoration to freedom, then prepares to hail and bow to the "Twenty-first." It is a powerful piece of irony, most exquisitely done. "Judas Iscariot" and "Lazarus" are two biblical tales. In "Judas," Jesus and Iscariot are represented as being nailed to the same cross, wearing the same crown of thorns. The story belongs to the wondrously beautiful secret in the eyes of Jesus. Thus, side by side, there are divine beauty and monstrous hideousness.

Judas has his face and life and dissembles, while Jesus is naive, meek and trustful. Judas is a fanatical revolutionary, Jesus a disciple of love and order, who renders unto Caesar the thing that are Caesar's.

In "Lazarus" the gloomy Jew whom Jesus has brought back to life after three days and three nights of death in the tomb is contrasted with the Emperor Augustus, who loves life and rejoices in it. Face to face he brings them in the Imperial palace at Rome, Augustus Dives dining from a table of imperial luxury, with Lazarus the beggar, with arms outstretched, petitioning for a bite of the Emperor's food.

In "Lazarus" the gloomy Jew whom Jesus has brought back to life after three days and three nights of death in the tomb is contrasted with the Emperor Augustus, who loves life and rejoices in it. Face to face he brings them in the Imperial palace at Rome, Augustus Dives dining from a table of imperial luxury, with Lazarus the beggar, with arms outstretched, petitioning for a bite of the Emperor's food.

"The Life of Father Vassili" is another gloomy, somber tale, that of an ill-fated parish priest. Misfortunes come in crowds and finally his only son is drowned. His wife takes to the deadly vodka and, in a stupor, conceives and bears another son, an idiot. This little monster dominates the home until the mother sets the home on fire and dies in the conflagration. The priest goes mad.

"Ben-Tobith" is a story of a resident of a small town who, with a toothache on the morning of the crucifixion. He had heard of Jesus and had thought of searching him out and seeking to be healed by his touch. He heard that the blind had been made to see. It was terribly annoying to him that the curious crowds gathered in the narrow streets and talked and laughed just as though he had no pain in him. In the time of the crucifixion he was seized by the mob, and he followed the mob. In the excitement he forgot his toothache. Unluckily for him, he and his companions are taken to the cross. The blind man, who hung on the center cross really could have done his toothache any good.

"Marsellaise" is the story of a heroic spirit in a weakling's body. It is the story of a stirring Russian day that followed the war with Japan. "Dies Irae" is the chant of Italian revolutionists as they see the end of peace and order and the coming of the days of wrath and vengeance.

It would be hard to imagine more tragedy and somberness between the covers of one book than we find in this volume.

"THE GUARDED HEIGHTS," by W. W. Camp. (Doubleday, Page & Co.)

THE hero, whose father owned a prosperous livery stable, finds himself, at his parent's death, with nothing because the automobile has wrecked the livery business. The rebuffed and angry youth quits the job at the request of the father of the girl, and then resolves to go out by himself for winning her. Then follow prodigious attainments in class work at Princeton, where he is working his way through. ## NO MORE FREIGHT SHIPMENTS BY THE M. & N. A. RAILROAD Certificate Holders' Fund Planned to Protect Property After Shutdown of July 31.

By the Associated Press. JOPLIN, Mo., July 23.—No freight shipments will be accepted by the Missouri & North Arkansas Railroad for any destinations after midnight, July 26, according to information received here from J. C. Murray, receiver and general manager of the M. & N. A. at Harrison, Ark.

The embargo on shipments precedes the shutdown of the railway, to take place July 31, as announced Thursday, and includes all commodities with the exception of the company's fuel and materials.

Holders of receiver's certificates of the railroad have been called upon to contribute 5 per cent of the amount of their holdings to a fund to be used to protect property of the railroad while it is not in operation. It was learned here today. Most of the certificate holders are St. Louisans.

THE STORY OF CHAUTAUQUA, by Jesse L. Harbutt. (Putnam.)

OF the veterans of the educational movement represented by the Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle, has written the history of the original Chautauqua Assembly, at the lake of that name in Western New York. Supplementary chapters tell of the development of similar assemblies and of the Chautauqua circuits throughout the country. The book is well illustrated, and contains a list of distinguished speakers at Chautauqua, and of class officers from 1882 to the present.

"THE PASSING LEGIONS," by George Buchanan Fife. (Macmillan Co.)

IN a book published in 1919, Henry T. Dantoy, chairman of the war council of the American Red Cross, has set forth the scope and focus of the work of the American Red Cross during the great war. It belonged to others to outline in personal diaries and narratives the special work done in different countries by this great organization, but to the mind of the present writer has done more than anything else to make other peoples love America.

The book analyzed here is especially covering the work done in England, although its title has rather the character of an enigma, conveying little of subject-matter. Praises must be given to the author for the dramatic presentation of the activities of the American Red Cross far back from the lines where very little was spectacular, although in the end those activities were most useful.

In this particular instance we must remember also that a great part of the American army passed through England before landing in France, and it is with what the American Red Cross did for more than a million while on English soil that we are concerned in this work.

The story of the wreck and rescue of the Otranto victims told in the chapter "A Call Through the Storm" cannot fail to interest the reader and we find equally in this narrative touches of humor in what would have been otherwise a very dry analysis or diary.

"FELIX RHODES," by Basil Williams. (Henry Holt & Co.)

THIS is the eighth volume in the historical series called "Makers of the Nineteenth Century." The subjects treated in the preceding seven volumes have been Delane of the London Times, Abraham Lincoln, Herbert Spencer, Porfirio Diaz, Abdul Hamid, Li Hung Chang, Bismarck and Victor Hugo. The author of the present volume has presented a very vivid impression of Rhodes and his great work in South Africa, giving him full credit for all that he conceived and accomplished there without, at the same time, committing the blunder of the hero-worshiper in attempting to gloss over his faults, which, like those of other empire builders, were numerous and varied.

Wall Street News and Comment.

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Again today the bond dealings were the main point of interest in Wall Street.

The upward movement in the market was well defined after the reduction in Federal Reserve Bank rates, continuing to move in the same direction.

There was a larger volume of business, a broader distribution of interest and a fairly general marking up of prices.

The stock market, while not as important as the bond market, showed considerably more life and this activity was accompanied by rising prices.

There were two groups that were conspicuous above the rest—the rubber and tire shares and the sugars.

Crude rubber production in the Far East has been cut to half what it was at its maximum, with the result that the price has had a sharp advance.

Sterling exchanges went lower again and cotton and grain declined despite the continued upward trend.

The fact that Steel common shares were quite unaffected by the 100,000-ton day output was impressive.

PRIMARY BILL FIGHT

Activities of Dr. Clements on House Floor Defeat Amendment.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 23.—Activities of Dr. E. B. Clements of Macon, chairman of the Republican State Committee, on the floor of the House yesterday afternoon during the debate on the proposed new primary law, resulted in the defeat of an amendment offered by Representative Hales of St. Louis.

On a first vote the amendment carried but a few moments later, after Clements had conferred with Republican members on the floor, a motion to reconsider was made, and the amendment was again thrown out of debate.

Women Interested in Bill.

Miss Marie Ames, representing 15 women's organizations who have been the principal advocates of the measure because it gives women equal numerical representation with men on political party committees, carried the word to the Democratic side of the House that the Republicans had decided to kill the bill unless the amendment was defeated.

Representative Kilham of Lincoln county, Democrat, declared in a speech that, if the amendment was killed it would be a blow at clean primaries. He charged the Republicans with having agreed among themselves to defeat the bill if the amendment carried.

The purpose of the amendment was to prevent the filling of vacancies on the tickets after the primary election by conventions instead of by death, conviction of a felony or removal from the county of a candidate for county office. It would prevent party committees from buying off candidates to replace them with other candidates after learning of the nominees of the opposing party were, and would prevent committees from inducing prospective candidates to refrain from filing in order that the committee might at the last minute name candidates for certain offices.

On a second vote the Hales amendment was defeated.

Provisions of Measure.

As passed by the Senate the bill provides that candidates for judges of the Supreme Court, Courts of Appeal and Circuit Courts should be nominated by conventions instead of in the primary, as under the present law. The house struck out these provisions by amendments.

The bill also was amended to give voters the right to elect judges to remove their own members for inefficiency, misconduct in office or corruption.

It is doubtful that the Senate will concur in the House amendments. If it rejects them the bill will go to a Conference Committee in an effort to work out an agreement on the disputed points.

DRUG SMUGGLING DISCOVERED

Morphine Found in Flaps of Envelopes at Workhouse.

An attempt to smuggle drugs to prisoners in the city workhouse was frustrated today by Superintendent Morgan, who discovered a small quantity of morphine, wrapped in tissue paper and stuck between the lower flaps of two envelopes containing letters for Charles Kelly and William Miller, prisoners.

The method was discovered in the examination of prisoners' mail, which is held before a strong light.

The envelopes were turned over to Postoffice officials for investigation. It was the first time smuggled drugs have been detected in the mail for prisoners at the workhouse.

G. A. R. RANKS THINNED SINCE 1920 REUNION

Veterans Have Lost Nearly 10,000 Members and Organization Now Numbers 93,155.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—When the Grand Army of the Republic holds its annual reunion this year, many who attended the encampment of 1920 will be counted among the missing, as the ranks have been depleted by nearly 10,000 since that gathering.

The total membership of the G. A. R. today is 93,155, while its membership in 1920 was 103,253.

The total membership is scattered among 4445 posts in every State. Ohio, with 10,241, has the largest membership, with Pennsylvania second with 9122; New York, third, 8735; Illinois, fourth, 6468; Indiana, fifth, 5949; Massachusetts, sixth, 5356. No other states have 5000 or more members.

Property owned by all posts is valued at $2,075,047, including real estate worth $802,841.

The G. A. R. was organized in Illinois in the spring of 1865. Who were its originators is a matter of tradition rather than record, says the report made to the national encampment in 1869 by N. P. Chipman, then Adjutant-General of the national organization.

At the 1869 encampment a mutual life insurance scheme was proposed, it being said then that the G. A. R. had 240,000 members, but there is no authentic record of the membership for the early years.

In 1890, however, reports taken as authentic state that the membership was 409,489, the highest mark recorded. From 1878 to 1890 the growth was rapid, being from 12,000 to 85,000 annually. Since 1890 the decline has been constant, except for a 3000 gain in 1906, said to be due to prospects of favorable pension legislation. Subsequent enrollment figures from the time the G. A. R. reached its zenith to the present time follow:

1891, 407,781; 1901, 509,507; 1911, 503,410; 1921, 509,400; 1931, 510,181; 1934, 93,155.

The 1920 national encampment voted to meet every year as long as a single member survived. Brigadier-General John L. Clem, address Army and Navy Club, Washington, D. C., claims to be the youngest G. A. R. member. He is thought by G. A. R. officials here to be 71 years old, having enlisted as a drummer boy at the age of 11 years. The question of who is the oldest member always brings up hundreds of claimants and no reliable record has been obtained.

ALTOONA, Pa., July 23.—Officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. here announced that effective Monday, 50 men would resume work in the Juniata shops on engine repairs and 100 employees would be called back to the Altoona machine shops. Approximately 50 other men for other work have also been ordered back to work. These men return with the re-establishment of the piece-work system.

Voluntary 10 Per Cent Wage Out.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 23.—A 10 per cent reduction in wages was voluntarily accepted yesterday by 15,000 employees of the Interborough Rapid Transit Co., Frank Hedley, president of the company, announced.

PIKE COUNTY REPRESENTATIVE OPPOSES ANTI-LYNCHING BILL

Declares Law Would Not Avail in Cases of Negro Crimes Against White Women.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 23.—Representative Ayers of Pike County, in which, at Bowling Green, a negro was lynched in May, opposed in the House today the anti-lynching bill introduced by Representative Moore of St. Louis, a negro. Ayers, though not defending lynching, said no law would prevent lynching in Pike County in case of crimes by negroes against white women.

"You could fill the streets with Gatling guns," he said, "and it would make no difference. There is a class of citizens who have determined that such crimes shall stop." The bill defines an assembly of three or more persons to do injury to a person in custody of law officers as an unlawful assembly, members of which may be fined not more than one year. If a person is killed by the mob the punishment for murder shall apply. The bill also gives recourse for damages against a city or town in which a lynching occurs.

MOB LYNCHES CONDEMNED MAN

75 Men Take Prisoner From Jail in Mississippi.

By the Associated Press.
HATTIESBURG, Miss., July 23.—Casey Jones, recently convicted of the murder of Mrs. J. S. Mosely, wife of a city mail carrier here, and sentenced to be hanged, July 18, but whose case was pending before the State Supreme Court, was taken from the county jail at about 1:15 this morning and hanged in the courthouse yard by a mob of about 75 men.

Everything for QUALITY~ nothing for show

THAT'S OUR IDEA in making CAMELS—the Quality Cigarette.

Why, just buy Camels and look at the package! It's the best packing science has devised to keep cigarettes fresh and full flavored for your taste. Heavy paper outside—secure foil wrapping inside and the revenue stamp over the end to seal the package and keep it air-tight.

And note this! There's nothing flashy about the Camel package. No extra wrappings that do not improve the smoke. Not a cent of needless expense that must come out of the quality of the tobacco.

Camels wonderful and exclusive Quality wins on merit alone.

Because, men smoke Camels who want the taste and fragrance of the finest tobaccos, expertly blended. Men smoke Camels for Camels smooth, refreshing mildness and their freedom from cigarette aftertaste.

Camels are made for men who think for themselves.
